Hey Michael,

I ended up on your site after reading one of your comment on growandconver.com.

Your post with the BFF Commenter technique is EXCELLENT! In fact, I'm going to put it in practice today.

It's so relevant to me because I just launched my website/blog as well :)

(I want to help entrepreneurs build stunning websites with all the features to grow their businesses.)

I just published my first article on how to speed up your WordPress site in less than 1 hour...

... In the process of writing this article, I checked how optimized were several blogs I follow.

I noticed that your website doesn't have Expires Headers and doesn't use a CDN.

You probably know this as you've created many websites before. I thought I would let you know in case it escaped your attention :)

For expires headers I use WP Performance Score Booster & CloudFlare as my CDN. Both tools are easy to configure and very efficient. Do you usually use other services?

Have a good one!

Pierre

P.S: I just subscribed to your list, looking forward to your next post!
