Based on what I'm seeing in the controller, there's no reason running RADIUS with a captive portal shouldn't work.. all wireless solutions will allow you to do this I suggest for price point using ubiquiti as it is competitively priced for education.

I personally like to use network policy server for radius and push the WLAN settings using group policy and boom all business machines auto auth with machine credentials to the wireless lan.

if you want to make a wlan for user access which it sounds like you do I would do the same and link the radius with a group membership requirement.. Your best bet, since you're researching for a larger purchase, would be to pick up an AC-LR or In-Wall AC to test and run the unifi controller locally.. again this is easy using the proper wireless solution.
